Our Dear Mrs. Casey,

Words cannot express our sincere gratitude for your assistance, guidance, patience, and thought. In the past three years you have meant more to each of us than a mere sponsor. You have become a dear and treasured friend.

Your presence at class meetings and parties was valued and appreciated by all of us. As sponsor, friend, and teacher, we always found you available to answer our questions and fulfill our needs.

As we go our separate ways, may you always hold us as dear to your heart as we shall hold you to ours.

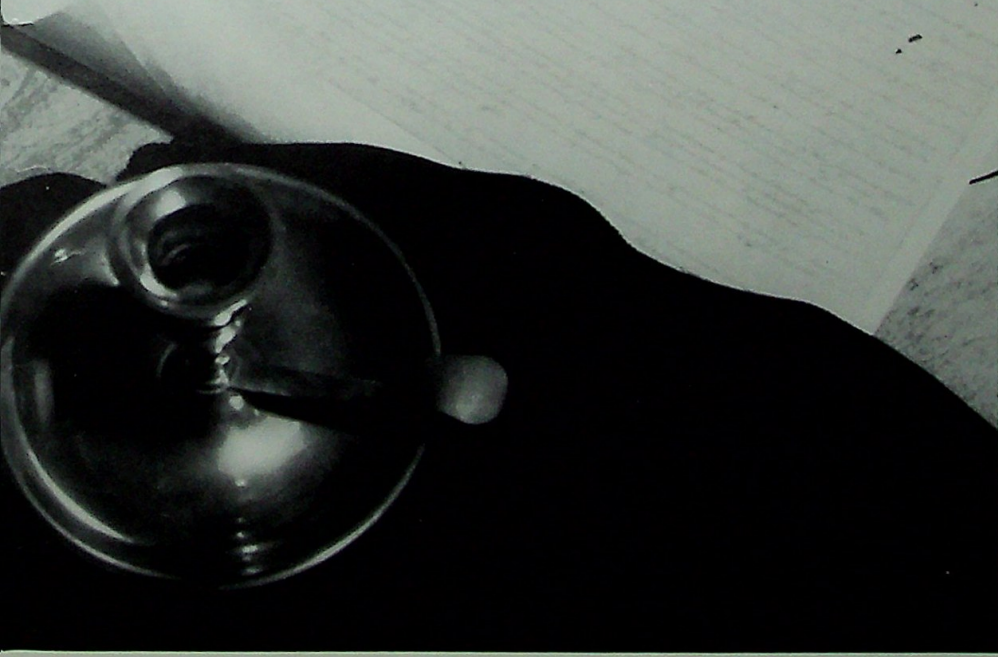

In grateful appreciation we dedicate to you, our yearbook, the 1962-1963 Panther Tracks.

Sincerely yours,
The Senior Class of 1963

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. James Gabbard, our new principal, is proving he is quite capable of handling administrative duties. With all the responsibilities of being principal, he always finds time to give guidance to the students.

Mr. Paul W. Swank, the county superintendent, has faithfully served the schools for many years. His office is located in Lebanon.

For the first time in the history of the school, the principal has had a personal secretary, Miss Martha King. She is also the treasurer of our school.

Mr. Marvin Reynolds, who has faithfully served our school as trustee for four years, is shown above with his advisory board consisting of Adrian Cline, Gordon Walker, and Arthur Smith.

The new trustee, Mr. Harold Anderson, assumed duties January 1, 1963 and is shown with his advisory board Adrian Cline, Gordon Walker, and Wally Greeson.

CLASSES

These students and their instructor Mr. Ziegler are deep in the thoughts of "plain" geometry.

Rusty Tucker, David McKinzie, Jim Hardesty, John Stern, Dallas Vaughn, Wayne McKinnis and Jerry Woodall make up the physics class, taught by Mr. Andreko.

Mr. Bob Fleener, the journalism instructor, is explaining to his class how to operate the new mimeograph machine. The members of the class from left to right are: Phyllis Capps, Phyllis Morris, Emily Belcher, Janet Crostreet, Dianne Davis, Susan Coleman, and Dotty Smith.

Ralph Cline, Bob Northcott, Steve Dickerson, Herbert King, and Mr. Mills, Driver Education Instructor, prepare to leave on a practice drive in the new Dodge.

Mrs. Morton instructs the tenth grade English class which consists of 27 students.

Mrs. Casey's Government Class seems to be hard at work studying the functions of our government. All Seniors take this course.

Mr. Andreko is explaining the principles of a transformer to these nine boys who are taking electric shop.

Mrs. Lee teaches the Freshmen all about the human body in her biology class.

The home-ec girls find humor in even the most serious subjects, as Mrs. Hart leads the class discussion on being engaged.

Mrs. Casey's Spanish class gets much enjoyment out of speaking another country's language.

Mr. Fleener's typing class is now taking a three minute typing test to find the number of correct words they can type per minute.

Mr. Mack's wood shop is shown here in very constructive positions.

The students are engrossed in deep thought and preparing themselves for a higher level of learning.

The Whitestown High School basketball teams, the boys who chose the queen, preceded the candidates at the crowning ceremony.

Seniors Win Awards

DOTTY JEAN SMITH

A Senior girl is chosen each year by the faculty to represent our school in the Daughters of the American Revolution contest. The girls chosen are based on their qualities of leadership, citizenship, and scholastic ability. This year the award went to Dotty Smith. She was required to take a written examination, and it was submitted to the county DAR contest, for competition with girls from other schools in the county.

PHYLLIS JEAN CAPPS

Phyllis Capps was elected Ideal Sunshine Girl by the Sunshine Society members because of her outstanding work and service as President of the society. Her shining personality has really been an asset to the society.

Homemaking should be uppermost in every girl's mind. Each of the Senior girls took a homemaking test sponsored by Betty Crocker. The Senior girl with the highest grade won the title, "Homemaker of Tomorrow." Phyllis Capps also won this honor.

"Efficiamus" Let Us Achieve

"Labor omnia vincit" is the watchword of the Latin Club. With songs and syntax they exemplify the theme that love of learning is their goal.
