NOVEMBER

Trees don their multi-colored attire;
Crisp, (but) gentle breezes whisper sweet remembrances of summer
Leaves drift through the balmy air and caress the earth
And kiss the wavering grass and tremble in their mirth-
The enchanting melody of a few lonely crickets creates an odd sensation
They enhance a mystic wonderland and capture the earth's pulsation.

The sky is a roof of hazy blue
Interspersed with layers of billowing clouds
The pumpkins, the turkeys; all displayed in bright array
Say delicious things that words just can not say-
The moonlight weaves a spell of mystery, the hills it does shroud
And thoughts drift swiftly back to that first Thanksgiving,

A silent prayer for those, who lie dead
Who first trod this land and for each tear they shed
They have given us a heritage proud and illustrious;
A land of fertile plains, sandy shores, mountain valleys
On which have grown great steel and concrete monsters
Our great American cities that have made our land industrious.

Let us whisper a prayer that fighting may cease
That the chance for world understanding may steadily increase
Let not nation against nation take up sword against the other
And let every race proclaim each one is his brother-
Thank you Lord for our freedom...please help us find peace.

High School News

Last Friday, Charles Hodges was taken to Witham Hospital for an emergency appendectomy.

His condition has improved and he was discharged Wednesday. Anyone who wants to send Charlie a card address it to Charles Hodges, Zionsville, R. R.#1.

JUNIORS

We wish to thank everyone that helped and co-operated in making our play a success. Our thanks also goes to a wonderful director, Mrs. Wretha Baker. Following the play the cast was graciously entertained at the home of Jim Wellington.

Our class is selling class pins. These pins are of very good quality and are worth much more than their sale price. Anyone interested please contact a member of the Junior Class as soon as possible.

SOPHOMORES

We of the Sophomore Class have a big year ahead of us. On Saturday, Nov. 1, we start the ball rolling with a Bake Sale at the Regal Food Market here in Whitestown. Everything from noodles to nut cookies will be offered. The sale starts at 8:15 a.m., so come one, come all.

On November the 7th, at our first home ball game, you will see us running madly around distributing popcorn to the cheering crowds.

Coming up November the 8th is a party for the members of our class. The plans include a wiener roast to be held at the Community Park, and music to dance by will be provided by the loudspeaker system in the shelter house.

And last, but not least, here's the dirt about our car wash. It is to be held at 271 S. East Street Lebanon, Ind. You may purchase a ticket from any Whitestown Sophomore for just $1.50. This includes white walls and interior cleaning. The tickets are good from Nov. 3 to Nov. 9.

P.S. All those who don't think Peggy Griffeth can drive, just don't know how difficult it is to drive in the side ditch!

FRESHMEN

The freshman class have yet to decide on their money making project for the year. Several ideas have been brought up. All members have paid their dues for the first semester.

The Latest Gossip: Three freshman girls have looked ten years into their future, and here is what they see.

Janet Leckrone: In ten years I want to be out of secretarial school, making a lot of money, married, and raising a family.

Karen Stultz: In ten years I hope to be a school teacher, teaching in the elementary grades and married, and have a family.

Sandy Miller: I am going to be in California, teaching grades for a very small school. I am going to be married and raise a family.

Shirley: Did you know that the two smartest ages are four and seventeen?

Sue: No, why are they?

Shirley: Because at four you know all the questions, and at seventeen you know all the answers.

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

News & Sports

The eight grade had their class party October 10 at Myron Cragun's house. We had a weiner roast and played games and danced after eating.

Since the last issue Phyllis Morris has had a birthday. She was fourteen on October 27.

Even though Susie Coleman was already very much interested in the Y.F.C. meetings, we wonder who she met at the Y.F.C. skating party to make her all the more interested?

Bob Loveless and Dickie Harmon seem awfully interested in the Seventh Grade. I wonder why?

What eight grade girl made a bet at the skating party Monday night that Whitestown would win the attendance at the next Y.F.C. Rally?

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh grade has a new boy enrolled. His name is Sammy Corbin. Janice Coyle is back to stay, we hope!

SPORTS

Our Panthers open the basketball season on Saturday night November 1, in the Wells High School gymnasium. November 7 the Panthers tangle with the Dover Blue Devils here at home. Our other games in November will be with Colfax which is there, and Pinnell and Perry Central which are both played here.

The Panthers have the material for a winning season this year, but they will need your moral support, so let's get out and back on team all this year, students!

For your enemy, Forgiveness.
For your opponent, Tolerance.
To your friend, Your Heart.
To your child, a Good Example.
To your parents, Conduct that will make them proud of you.
To all men, Charity.

Music has arrived for the High School choral and instrumental groups which will participate in the Boone County Festival. Choral numbers include: God So Loved the World, He Never Said a Mumbling Word, Fred Waring arrangements of, One God and Battle Hymn of the Republic, and a novelty number entitled Hayride.

Ideals are like stars. You will not succeed in touching them with your hands, but choose them as your guides, follow them, and you will reach your destiny.

Activities

The Youth for Christ Club went to a roller skating party on Mon. Oct. 27. The party was at Melody Skateland and 40 people attended from Whitestown.

Devotions for the evening were given by Bob Steele from Indianapolis.

On the agenda for the month of November is a Pizza Party which is going to be held in the school cafeteria. This party is scheduled for Nov. 10 and a quartet from Tech High School is going to provide the entertainment for the evening.

The Whitestown Homemaking Classes will present a dress review in playlet form at the next P.T.A. meeting, November 21. The skit, "Miss Modern Cinderella," offers all girls of the two homemaking classes an opportunity to model the garments which they have completed during the first twelve weeks of school.

Miss Sharon Plunkett will provide background music for this review.

D.A.R.

The Cheerleaders for High School were elected on Mon., Oct. 6. They are Linda Dodson, Kay Van Hock, Delores Wallace, and Jayne Ping.

The Yell Leaders for Jr. High were elected on Mon., Oct. 13. They are Shelly Morris, Betty Jo Kumppe, and Susan Coleman.

Mrs. Ping took the High School Yell Leaders to a Cheerleaders Convention at Portland, Indiana on Sat., Oct. 18. An instructor gave the girls some helpful hints on cooperation and interest of the pep club and various yelling ideas.

The outfits for the cheerleaders this year are going to be white felt skirts and blue sweaters.

The Pep Club was organized on Mon. Oct. 20 with 56 members. The officers are:

Pres. - Jone Ping
Vice Pres. - Sandra Tarplee
Sec. Treas. - Judy Thompson

Once again the selection has been made of the Senior girl who will represent Whitestown School in the Good Citizen Contest Sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. This coveted honor has been won by Sue Van Hook who was chosen first by her classmates, and then endorsed by the faculty. Qualities considered were dependability, service, leadership, patriotism. Her essay will be judged with other competitors from all county schools.

Just as the elderly man stepped from the curb, a huge dog tore around the corner and knocked him flat. He had barely struggled to his feet when a small foreign car brushed against him and knocked him down again.

A passerby helped him to his feet and asked if he was injured. the old man steadied himself and said, "That dog didn't hurt me any but that danged can tied to his tail nearly killed me".

Grade School News

FIRST GRADE NEWS

The following children have had October birthdays. Thomas Martin, Ronald Cline, Patricia Warfield, and Peggy Jane Mulberry.

"Snappy" the Turtle is a frequent visitor to the first grade room. "Snappy" belongs to Rickey Duvall.

The children have had many experiences to relate and things to show in our "sharing" period.

We have had fun making witches, cats, and jack-o'-lanterns to decorate the room for Halloween.

Mrs. Martha Padgett and Mrs. Freida Redmore were recent visitors of the first grade.

SECOND GRADE NEWS

Debra Warren moved to Pittsboro leaving the second grade with an enrollment of 22.

Witches, ghosts, black cats, and jack-o'-lanterns in our room remind us that Halloween is coming. Friday afternoon we will have our Halloween Party. Then it will be time to begin thinking of Thanksgiving.

Guppies, snails and an airplane plant, are new additions to the second grade room. These were brought by Allen Robertson and Karol Neese.

Most children take no, no, no, No! for an answer.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

We have a new pupil, Roselia Corbin, from Marion County:

Marcia Frye, Mark Starkey, Mike Smithes, Danny Moore, and Larry Engledow will celebrate their birthdays at our Halloween party Friday.

Linda Couey, Nancy Powell, Sara Lawson, and Judy Smith were on the honor roll last grading period.

When we were reading about pets, Linda Couey brought three small bunnies to school for us to observe.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS

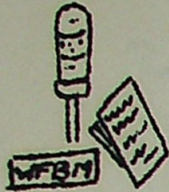

Barbara Shumate has brought her two gold fish to school. They are now at home on our science table.

Also on our science table is a terrarium brought by Ronnie Swafford and an interesting earth science collection owned by Mikey Loveless. His parents brought this to him from Colorado.

A sparrow came into our room last week. Mrs. Dye caught it, we looked at it and put it on the window sill. It soon flew away.

We started our library this week. Randy Allen and Mike Caldwell were elected librarians. With the money given us by the P.T.A., we bought several books. These books are certainly very much appreciated. Each of us has brought some books from home to share with the class and add to our library.

Last month each of us "adopted" a tree. It is most interesting to watch what is happening to "my" tree.

News & Sports

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

Librarians were elected in the fifth grade for the next six weeks. They are Sandra Dodson and Tommy Stern.

The honor roll for the fifth Grade for the first six weeks grading period was; Sandra Dodson, Betty Robinson, Elaine McKinnis, Jo Boyd, Tommy Stern, Dorothy Kesley, and Barbara Capps.

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

SCIENCE

Since we have started in science, we have made several experiments. Mr. Dickerson has shown us that dry ice is heavier than air. By putting a hand over a big bottle that contains water, containing a smaller bottle filled with air, the pressure of the air on top of the water forced the smaller bottle down to the bottom of the big bottle.

Grades 4, 5, and 6 have chosen the Operetta, "The Elves Who Came to Stay", to be presented December 19th for the Christmas Program.

Mr. White: "Mr. Denny, had you noticed that Mrs. Fishburn has developed an impediment in her speech?"
Mr. Denny: "No, I hadn't!"
Mr. White: "Yes, she stops to breathe every once in a while."
