Meeting Minutes
September 9, 2002
Submitted by Deana Harter
(Subject to Approval)

At 7:30 p.m., the meeting was called to order. Roll call was taken. Carla Jackson and Mike McQueen were in attendance. Attendees: Mike McQueen, Carla Jackson, Kathy Graham, Deana Harter, Christine Atkinson, Chris Herrick, John Allen, Mike and Cheryl Hancock, Ruth Edens, Jerre and Estelle Albright, Ed and Jo Ann Krouse, Ed Hine, John Hancock, Mike Hancock, Jeff Johnson, Gregory Johnson and Linda Hurst. Mike made a motion to approve last month's minutes. Carla seconded the motion. Unanimous vote, motion passed.

New Business

Neighborhood Bike Identification Program continued until next month.

Jeff Stanley from TDS Telecom applied for a driveway permit. He showed a picture of a sample of what the building will look like. It will be off CR 650 between phase I and phase II. Carla said she is okay with the driveway cut. Mike said he would call Teri at the APC tomorrow and give her the okay. Jeff said they would work with Valenti-Held about how this should be done. Mr. Stanley said they would be putting trees around this building to somewhat hide the building.

Carla said they have sold four homes out there now. The cheapest house out there is $99,900 without any changes. Mike addressed the poles; the telephone poles will be taken out when 400 S is done.

Speed limit on CR 650 — The speed limit in front of the new housing addition will be reduced. People are speeding up right there and it is dangerous for construction. Mike and Carla want to see a copy of speed limit ordinance in their boxes so they can review this for next month's meeting.

Crossmann trailer utility service — Chris Herrick stated the water is being tested and sewer still has to have the pressure testing. Carla asked about water loads. Chris explained two companies are using water and we established the billing process over the weekend.

Jerre Albright said the start time of workers was before 7:00 a.m. this morning. Mike and Carla said to call the police (county dispatch). Kathy will call Chama tomorrow about this. Mike will ask Ralph to come in a couple of times this week at 6:30 a.m.

Old Business

Safety Board has been continued until next month.

Sam's Club membership was renewed.

Triad Update — Mike said the bids are in for the water plant. Last Saturday Mike stated they nitpicked the wastewater plant. They will be putting the barn up. The money will come out of the SWAF fund. Mark said they (Jim from Triad) need a special session next week. Due to conflict of schedules, the special Session will be September 23 at 6:00 p.m. Chris Herrick, Carla, Mike, Mark, and Kathy need to attend. Carla will call Jim to find out what this meeting is about, then she will call everyone involved.

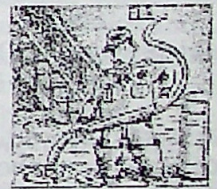

Street Update

John Allen reported all binder and curbs are in. They are spreading grass seed and hay this week. They will have to come back to recoat the roads later (this may be years from now). We will not sign off on the roads until the last house is completed. Estelle asked about the bike path; John stated they aren't finished yet.

The 2003 budget was discussed. Carla made a motion to accept the budget; Mike seconded. Unanimous vote, motion passed.

Miscellaneous Business

Ed Hine from St Mark's Lutheran Church at 107 S. Main Street is here to ask about the drain they have been having problems with. Carla said this is the one she has called Mark and Chris about in the past. Ed said the drain is stopping water up in the basement. He explained the tree roots gave this drain problems fifteen years ago. He feels the Co-op limestone is what drains surface water down to this drain. Mark Bennington said he has never seen any problems with this drain. Mike and Carla both feel there is a problem with this drain. Carla asked what we can do; Chris Herrick said they could fix the casting. There was a question as to which direction this drain flows. Carla asked Chris and Mark to get a camera in the drain and see what needs to be done and come up with a cost breakdown. She wants this as soon as possible. This will be addressed at the special session September 23 or at the next board meeting if the details aren't ready on the 23rd. Chris spoke about the drain at Uitts and Walnut. Mark said we need to put in a bigger pipe. Mark will price this repair.

Kathy read Resolution 2002-03 Street Closing during Pioneer Days Celebration. Mike made a motion to pass resolution 2002-03; Carla seconded the motion. Unanimous vote, motion passed. We will get a certificate of insurance by Friday.

Fire Hydrant Meter — Chris Herrick said it will cost $800-$1000 for this meter. Carla said she would like the town to have one. Kathy was asked about this purchase, she said she would like to hold off on this expense at this time. This topic has been tabled until the December Board meeting. Chris would like to have this by spring.

Carla spoke about a water metering device. Chris spoke about several different options, he is looking for a permanent fix not a quick solution. Ed Krouse suggested this also be added to the December agenda. Mike stated he wanted this put on the December agenda.

Sewer Report

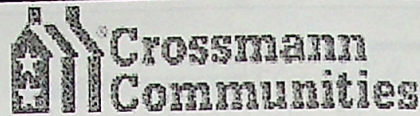

Given by Mark Bennington

Mark gave the Board an estimate for a second refrigerator for samples. It cost $347 at Lowes. Mark will pick it up. Zionsville is going to train Mark and Norman on phosphorus testing and Fishers is going to train them on E. coli. Mark will set up a schedule for what tests get done on what days. He submitted an estimate for $6995 to put the pole barn back up. Mark and his dad would be paid $13 per hour and the other people would be paid $10 per hour. They need to sign an agreement that they are working as independent contractors. Kathy will call the insurance agent and find out from Brad Buchanon if they are able to be added to the insurance. They are hoping to have this done in three weekends.

Inmates will paint the wastewater plant after Pioneer Days. Mark asked about paint and rollers. Mark said the sewer plant needs a pressure washer to clean. Chris Herrick said financially we will spend around $2000 on a good pressure washer. Carla approved three cans of paint and rollers. This will come out of the SWAF Fund. Mark and Chris will review what they want/need. Mark will get with Kathy on the bill. Mark stated he needs a computer. Kathy will pick up the one he wants from Wal-Mart per Carla's directions.

Adjournment: Carla made the motion that the September 9, 2002 Whitestown Town Council Meeting be adjourned after signing of the claims. Mike seconded. Unanimous vote. Motion passed.

WALKER FARMS HOMES FOR SALE

Crossmann Communities is currently advertising two different floor plans at Walker Farms, "Freedom" and "Independence." The 3-bedroom "Freedom" home has 1660 sq. ft. and starts at $109,900 (monthly payments as low as $730). The 4-bedroom "Independence" home has 2276 sq. ft. and starts at $124,900 (monthly payments as low as $825). Both homes have two stories and a garage. Through November 12, Crossmann Communities will donate $200 to a selected Police, Emergency or Fire Department in the township for every Freedom and Independence home sold. For more information, call Diana Collier @ 769-3174.

CONSTRUCTION WORKER RESCUED FROM MANHOLE AT WALKER FARMS

On August 29, Andrew Hammond, a construction worker employed by Valenti-Held, fell to the bottom of a manhole at the Walker Farms subdivision. While checking the flow of the sanitary system, Hammond reportedly detected an odor and became dizzy, falling about 10 feet to the bottom of the 18-foot hole. He was taken to Witham Memorial Hospital in Lebanon for observation, where he was released after being treated for an ankle injury. Worth Township Fire Chief Kelly Frye reported minimal oxygen in the manhole, but no sign of toxins/chemicals. Whitestown Police Marshal Ralph Roberts said the man may have lost air, which caused him to lose consciousness and fall. Roberts said he would not be surprised to see other incidents occur because of the project's size. Concern for the safety of workers at the planned 1,080-home development has prompted talk of lowering the speed limit from 40 mph to 30 mph along that stretch of CR 650 East. The issue is on the agenda of the Whitestown Town Council Meeting on October 14, 2002.

WALKER FARMS UTILITY LINES

The Town of Whitestown and Crossmann Communities are working together to resolve the issue of whether all utility lines for the development will be placed underground. Crossmann and Boone REMC were under the impression that only the power lines that run through the development were to be buried. The lines in question are dispatch lines running along the west side of CR 650 East in front of the development. The lines were recently replaced with larger lines in order to support the loads required for the development. The parties have agreed that the utility lines will be placed underground during the rerouting of CR 400 South, which is expected within the next three years.

BOONE MEADOW ELEMENTARY SCHOOL 6619 South 650 East, Whitestown

<http://www.zcs.k12.in.us/boonemeadow/boonemeadow.htm>

Boone Meadow Elementary School, currently under construction just south of Whitestown on CR 650 East in Eagle Township, is expected to open to Zionsville students in grades 3-5 by August 2003.

The Zionsville Elementary Schools Redistricting Committee, chaired by Boone Meadow Elementary Principal Bob Bostwick, recently voted on boundary recommendations for the 2003-04 school year. Under the proposed plan, students living at Royal Run, Stonegate, and Deer Ridge would be transferred from Pleasant View Elementary to Boone Meadow Elementary; those students living in the Thornhill subdivision would move from Eagle Elementary to Boone Meadow; and Village Walk students would attend Eagle Elementary rather than Pleasant View. In all, 561 students would change schools. The proposed enrollment figures are: Pleasant View—796, Boone Meadow—549, Eagle—460, and Union—169. The panel will present its proposal to school officials on October 14, with a final decision expected by October 28.

When Stonegate Lower Elementary School opens on an adjacent site in 2005, a redistricting committee will again be convened in order to review enrollment figures and make recommendations for new boundaries.

STONEGATE DEVELOPMENT/ELEMENTARY SCHOOL Located in Eagle Township Southeast of Whitestown Between 550 South & 650 South (SR 334), and Between 700 East & 800 East (Kissel Road)

The Boone County Area Plan Commission recently approved Phases V & VI of Reitz Properties' Stonegate development. The 200-acre development will include 289 single-family homes, 9 multi-family manor-style homes, 21 commercial lots, a community center, public parks, and a public elementary school. Phase I, Stonegate Proper, has already been constructed. Phase II, which includes 59 residential lots, is currently under construction. Roads and infrastructure development are expected to start later this fall. Phase III will include a "village center," residential units, and small business buildings (including a general store). Phase IV will include Stonegate Elementary School, which will be a two-story, 88,227-square-foot building housing students in kindergarten, first grade, second grade, and special education. Phase V includes 20 acres, with 25 residential and 8 commercial lots. Phase VI includes 5.97 acres, with 10 residential lots and parks/commons areas.

WILDERNESS FARMS SUBDIVISION
 Located in Eagle Township East of Whitestown
 875 East & 400 South

Approval was recently granted for Wilderness Farms subdivision, a 77-acre development (129 lots) located at CR 400 South and CR 875 East. Part of CR 400 South will be widened from 16 feet to 22 feet, then covered with asphalt for more than 3,000 feet in a stretch east from 875 East to the eastern boundary of The Preserve at Spring Knoll. Planners have designated 400 South as a future "collector street" in Zionsville's master transportation plan — the road will someday connect 875 East and 975 East. Wilderness Farms and The Preserve at Spring Knoll are both being developed by Carter Properties.

475 East to Remain Open for Now

The Boone County Board of Commissioners denied a petition by Valenti-Held Construction (located at 4355 S. Indianapolis Ave.) to vacate the portion of 475 East between Indianapolis Avenue & 550 South. Closing the road would allow Valenti-Held more land for development (they are contemplating selling the property). The gravel road is mainly used by farmers. The issue will be revisited once the land is sold.

ReStore

The Grand Opening of Habitat for Humanity of Boone County's resale shop, "ReStore," was held on September 14 at 111 W. North Street, Lebanon. The store is open on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Proceeds from the sale of the donated items go toward support of the local agency.

Habitat for Humanity is a Christian organization that builds, rehabilitates, or remodels inadequate or indecent housing, in partnership with those in need of affordable housing, without discrimination because of race, religion, sex, or national origin. Habitat for Humanity of Boone County has built/remodeled 18 homes in the county since its founding in 1984.

Families interested in applying for the program should plan to attend a Habitat for Humanity Board meeting. The meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. Qualifications and procedures are explained at 6:00 p.m. For more information, please call (765) 483-5134.

Your Government Dollars at Work

The Town of Whitestown applied for a Government grant ($150,000) for an additional two full-time officers to help protect this community and the new development. Out of $128,487,013, the Town of Whitestown was awarded 0 dollars. The State of California was awarded $25,882,646 for a total of 288 officers, which is one-fifth of that budget. A few other states were also awarded multiple millions of dollars for the deployment of numerous officers, which ran in the millions of dollars.

This is a very good example of politics at work and not for the benefit of those communities that are in most need of government funding.

Whitestown Police Department

PROCEED WITH CAUTION

 The Indiana State Department of Transportation will be patching pavement on I-65 near Lebanon through October 18. Intermittent lane restrictions are planned between SR 32 and SR 39. To help accommodate rush hour traffic flow, operations will be suspended daily from 6:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. (southbound lanes) and 3:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. (northbound lanes).

Numerous accidents have occurred on I-65 in Boone County in the past few weeks. A fiery three-rig crash killed two truck drivers about one mile south of Ind. 47 on I-65. More than 100 gallons of fuel contaminated the creek flowing under the interstate, and the asphalt surface of the northbound lanes was severely damaged by burning fuel.

- The Boone County Commissioners are seeking state approval for a 4-way stop with a flashing light at the intersection of U.S. 421 and 146th Street, which was the site of a fatal accident in September. According to Boone County Sheriff Dennis Brannon, there have been 106 accidents at the intersection since 1995.
- The intersection of SR 47 & US 421 is now a 4-way stop.
- The intersection of 600 South & 25 West is now a 4-way stop.
- The intersection of 700 East & 525 South is now a 3-way stop.

The stretch of road on CR 300 South between SR 421 and the Hamilton County line has officially been designated as a No Passing Zone.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

OCTOBER 6-12,

- A home fire escape plan should include: working smoke alarms on every level of the home and outside all sleeping areas; two ways out of each room; unobstructed and easy-to-use exits; a meeting place outside; a posted emergency phone number for the fire department; and practicing the plan at least twice a year with every member of the household.

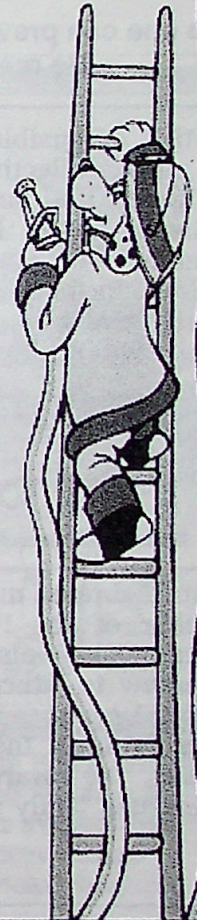

- If there are infants or family members with mobility limitations, someone in the household should plan to assist them.

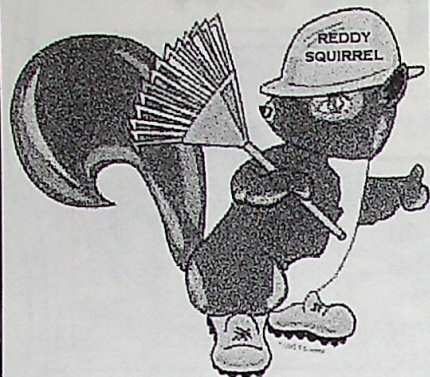

- Make sure that doors needed for escape can be opened easily and that windows are not nailed or painted shut.

- React to the sound of a smoke alarm immediately and make getting out your top priority.
- Agree on an outside meeting place where everyone can meet after they've escaped. Remember to get out first, then call for help.
- Never go back inside the home for any reason.

The Burning Debate:

No one can prevent wildfires.
Be ready!

Reddy Squirrel made her debut September 1 in Forest Magazine, a monthly publication of FSEEE (Forest Service Employees for Environmental Ethics). Reddy's slogan — “No one can prevent forest fires. Be ready!” — directly targets people who live in the wildland-urban interface, where most homes burn. She asks homeowners to plan for fire by creating defensible space within 100 feet of their homes and by building with fire resistant materials.

Creating defensible space means trimming low limbs from firs and pines, collecting dead vegetation such as pine needles and dry leaves, and landscaping with non-flammable plants (such as hardwood trees). Reddy Squirrel also asks homeowners to build or remodel with non-flammable materials, such as metal or tile roofing. In fact, building with or replacing a shake roof with a non-flammable roofing material is one of the most effective ways of helping your home to survive wildfire.

FSEEE Forest Service Employees
for Environmental Ethics

I just celebrated my 15th year with the Forest Service, and I am a member of the Forest Service Employees for Environmental Ethics. But I also have Smokey Bear coming at 10:00 a.m. tomorrow to educate about 75 kids (plus their parents) on fire safety! I suppose Reddy Squirrel does have a message for those of us living in the wildland/urban interface (i.e., homes in the forest): “Be aware, be prepared.” But Smokey's message still holds true: “Only you can [help] prevent forest fires.”

Reddy Squirrel vs. Smokey Bear

ONLY YOU CAN PREVENT FOREST FIRES.

Smokey Bear has a new message, “Only you can prevent wildfires” (instead of “forest fires”). The message reflects the rising dangers faced by homeowners living closer than before to areas that are vulnerable to flames. Smokey's web site stresses the idea of “good fire” vs. “bad fire” and discusses the benefits of lighting controlled fires to thin forests ripe for ignition.

2002 Pioneer

A good time was had by all!

This year's Pioneer Days Festival was "the best we've had all the way around," reports Cricket Dickerson, Manager of the Whitestown American Legion. She said that Bingo was a great success, because they had several people to help out this year. They had a great turnout for breakfast on both Saturday and Sunday. In the horseshoe tournament, Dave Newland and Rex Prescott competed with nine other teams to win the championship. ABATE had a steady flow of people all weekend long, and sold all 500 of the pork chops they had on hand!

Elma Sortor was the winner of the American Legion's Harold Anderson Citizenship Award. True to her nature, she donated the award money to the Worth Township Fire Department!

Congratulations and THANK YOU to the 2002 Pioneer Days Festival Committee for a fun and successful weekend!

Heather Kragenbrink, President
Penny Stephens, Vice President
Megan Lindley, Secretary
Donna Kendall, Treasurer

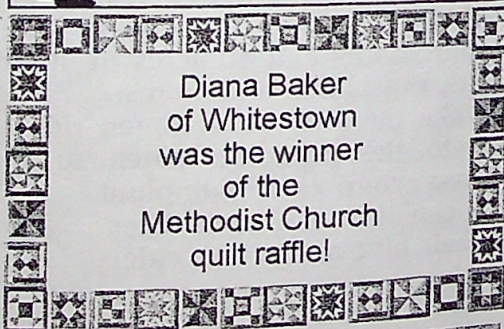

The Masonic Lodge reported another successful Pioneer Days breakfast. They wish to thank those who helped and all who stopped by to have breakfast with them!

Due to overwhelming response to the Old Time Photos during Pioneer Days, Jump's Crossing was unable to accommodate everyone that weekend. The good news is that Jump's Crossing will be continuing its vintage portrait shoots in the store! If you missed out during the festival, stop in and make some memories. A vintage portrait would make a great Christmas gift! Popular costume pieces include gowns, gloves, hats, and boas. The store, located at 8 South Main St., is open Wednesday through Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., and other times by chance or appointment. For more information, call Connie @ 769-2197.

Diana Baker of Whitestown was the winner of the Methodist Church quilt raffle!

Debbie Dant and Penny Stephens served as hostesses for the pageant. Their role was to introduce the contestants, put them at ease while asking tough questions, provide suggestions when necessary, be diplomatic, think on their feet, and generally keep the ball rolling. It was a tough job, but they rose to the challenge!

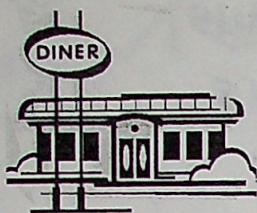

All 25 pageant contestants are to be commended for having had the courage to go onstage, present themselves, and answer questions before a live audience. The contestants all received gift bags, and the eight winners were awarded savings bonds from the Whitestown American Legion or Old National Bank. The good-natured contestants who agreed to sing nursery rhymes a cappella will be receiving their awards in Heaven!

The Lions Club sincerely appreciates the community's support of their efforts to renovate the Lions Club Park. It is a major undertaking by the community, for the community! Many improvements have already been made...if you have not been to the Park lately, please take a moment to drive in and check out the new sign, the new fencing and lighting, the flag poles and centerpiece, the shelter house, the grass, the paint, the parking lot, etc.

The one thing that is noticeably missing, however, is a playground; that is the Club's next major goal. The project's cost has been estimated at $30,000. The Club is looking into getting some help in the form of grants and corporate donations, but help is also needed from individuals within the Whitestown community. If you have any questions or ideas for making the playground a reality, please contact Mike Hancock, Lions Club Park Director, at 769-7360 or spike50gt@yahoo.com. Tax-deductible donations may be mailed to the Lion's Club @ P.O. Box 167, Whitestown, IN 46075.

Indiana's 21st Century Scholars Program
Offers Income-Eligible 7th & 8th Grade Students
FREE COLLEGE TUITION FOR 4 YEARS!

The Program

The Twenty-first Century Scholars Program began in 1990 as Indiana's way of raising the educational aspirations of low and moderate-income families. The program aims to ensure that all Indiana families can afford a college education for their children.

Income-eligible 7th and 8th graders who enroll in the program and fulfill a pledge of good citizenship to the state are guaranteed the cost of four years of college tuition at any participating public college or university in Indiana. If the student attends a private institution, the state will award an amount comparable to that of a public institution. If the student attends a participating proprietary school, the state will award a tuition scholarship equal to that of Ivy Tech State College.

In 1995, the first group of Scholars headed to college - with the continued support of the Governor and the Indiana General Assembly.

The Goals

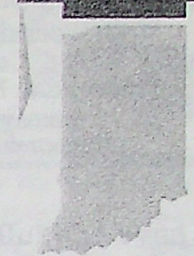

- Help more students continue their educations.
- Reduce the high school dropout rate.
- Prepare students for the workforce.
- Decrease the use of drugs and alcohol among middle and high school students.
- Improve individual economic productivity and the quality of life for all Indiana residents.

How to Apply

Eligible students may apply to the Twenty-first Century Scholars program. To be eligible for the Twenty-first Century Scholars Program, students must:

- Be a resident of Indiana as an applicant and award recipient (determined by residency of parent/legal guardian) and a child of a U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen. For information about citizenship qualifications, call 1-800-992-2076.
- Be enrolled in the 7th or 8th grade at a charter school, freeway school, or other Indiana school accredited (or seeking accreditation) through Performance Based Accreditation (PBA) by the Indiana Department of Education.
- Meet income requirements or be a ward of the court (foster child).
- Make a commitment to fulfill the Scholars Pledge.

Twenty-first Century
SCHOLARS

A representative from the Regional Support Center at Indiana University-Kokomo will be visiting Lebanon Middle School this fall (date TBA) to speak with all 7th & 8th grade students about the 21st Century Scholar Program. Applications and information on the program will be sent home with all students in attendance that day.

Although the student's family must meet the income guidelines set forth by the national free & reduced lunch program at the time of application, actual enrollment in that program is not required in order to be accepted into the 21st Century Scholar Program. Once accepted into the program, any future changes in income will not affect a student's eligibility.

Monthly meetings are held for Boone County students and parents in the program. The next meeting for current scholars/parents will be held from 6:30-8:00 p.m. on October 28 at ECS in Zionsville. This month's agenda includes tips for taking more effective classroom notes, improving performance on objective/essay tests, and an overview of ISTEP, SAT, and ACT.

I have two full-time jobs. I have been a postal employee for the last 13 years, and I am a pastor as well.

As a postal employee, there is this magical word that seems to have mystical powers — it is called “seniority.” If you possess this trait, you have an opportunity to get the best jobs, the best working hours, the most vacation time, and the best pay.

In the gospel reading we had at St. Mark's a couple of weeks ago, “seniority” is a word that holds about as much meaning as “touchdown” does in a basketball game. In Matthew 20:1-16, there is a landowner who at the break of day goes out to hire workers for his vineyard. He picks up a few at 6:00 a.m., and agrees to pay them a day's wages. He picks up a few more around 9:00 a.m., 12:00 p.m., 3:00 p.m., and 5:00 p.m., and agrees to pay them all “what is right” (meaning a day's wages). When quitting time comes around, he calls the ones he hired last to come up and be compensated; he pays them each a full day's wage. He calls up the ones hired from 3:00, and pays them all a full day's wage. The last ones up are the ones he hired first. They are murmuring to themselves, “If he paid all those others that only worked part of a day a full day's wage, we should make a bunch more than that.” But when the owner paid out, they only received a day's wage. He told them, “Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with what I own?”

If that were to happen at the post office or any other working establishment today, can you imagine the lawsuits? The ACLU would have a heyday with that! To our own understanding, it doesn't seem fair; but as Jesus told this parable, He told it with a much deeper meaning. The landowner is God, the first workers hired were the Jews, and the last ones hired were the Gentiles.

The moral of the parable is: It doesn't matter how long you've labored for God, or whether you have known Him for all your life (the Jews) or just one hour (the Gentiles), it's His grace and gift of salvation to give to whomever He calls and pleases. You may have seniority at work, but when it comes to eternity, to God it just doesn't matter.

May God be with you all.

Pastor Greg

Singer Jimmy Buffett has chosen Indianapolis as the site of his first "Cheeseburger in Paradise" chain restaurant, which is now open at I-65 and Southport Road. Buffett's decision to start his chain here dates back to 1997, when 20,000 fans braved heavy rains to attend his concert at Deer Creek Music Center. He fondly recalls, "There were still people in the rain holding 'We want tickets' signs. Nobody left. That did not go unnoticed by yours truly."

The world now knows what Hoosiers have suspected all along: Paradise can be found right here in Indiana...

The Scoop on the Scope

Fred C. Carey of Zionsville recently reported the theft of a bottle of mouthwash from his home. On Tuesday, August 27, a man unsuccessfully attempted to sell Mr. Carey some items, then allegedly stole a QVC package from the front porch of the Carey home. As the man walked away, he reportedly ripped open the box containing the mouthwash at the intersection of Waterford and Bloor Lane.

Valuable Coupon

Elizabeth Guy of Zionsville reported that between 7:15 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. on August 22, someone entered her vehicle in the parking lot of Zionsville Community High School and stole CDs, a car wash coupon, and $18 in cash. The total loss was valued at $180.

Vince Lombardi on "Winning"

"It is essential to understand that battles are primarily won in the hearts of men. Men respond to leadership in a most remarkable way and once you have won his heart, he will follow you anywhere."

"The greatest accomplishment is not in never falling, but in rising again after you fall."

"Once you learn to quit, it becomes a habit."

"Winning isn't everything, it's the only thing."

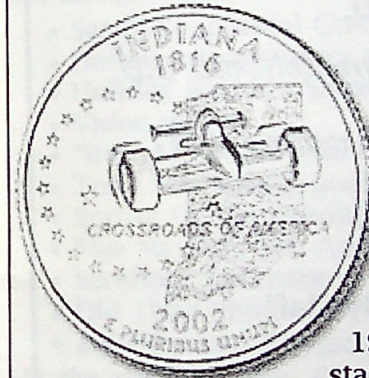

Black is Beautiful

After studying lion behavior on the Serengeti plain, researchers at the University of Minnesota have concluded that female lions prefer male lions with black manes. The theory is that dark-maned male lions generally have a higher level of testosterone, and they have a tendency to intimidate other male lions.

INDIANA STATE QUARTER NOW IN CIRCULATION

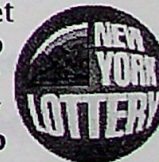

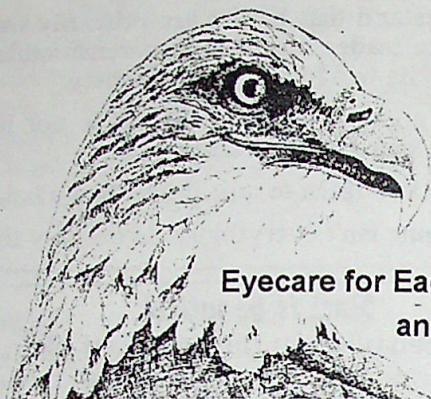

The Indiana quarter, the fourth quarter of 2002 and 19th in the series, represents state pride in the Indianapolis 500 race. The design features the image of a racecar superimposed on an outline of the state with the inscription "Crossroads of America." The design also includes 19 stars signifying Indiana as the 19th state admitted into the Union.

Winning Numbers 9-1-1 in New York Lottery on 9/11

On the first anniversary of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, the winning numbers in the New York lottery were 9-1-1; 5,631 people selected the numbers, winning $500 each. The 9-1-1 combination was picked so often that it reached the lottery's set limit for combinations and sold out two days prior to the drawing. It was the first time in more than a year that the 9-1-1 combination had come up in the New York lottery. The odds of the combination coming up were 1 in 1000.

Happy 1st Anniversary, Jump's Crossing!

It has been one year since Connie Jump embarked on the adventure of a lifetime: Opening her own antique store in Whitestown. Connie gave up a long and prosperous career as a petroleum geologist, leaving Colorado (her home of more than twenty years) in order to pursue her dream of owning and operating an antique store "back home."

Her son, Justin, bravely pulled up his roots, finishing his senior year of high school in Indiana, thus graduating from his mother's alma mater, Zionsville High School.

The opening of Jump's Crossing was timed to coincide with Whitestown's Sesquicentennial Celebration. Who would have dreamed that the same week the entire country would be turned upside down by the terrorist attacks of September 11th? Despite the economy, however, Jump's Crossing is still alive and kicking. The past twelve months have been filled with activities and events for all ages. A few of the highlights:

- Sesquicentennial Grand Opening
- Halloween costumes and treats
- Holiday Fashion Show
- Video rental
- "Between Paper and Palette" watercolor exhibit
- Toby McDaniel's book signing (Honk If You're a Hoosier)
- Spring Fashion Show
- Flea Markets and Auction
- Scrabble Tournament
- Old Time Photos
- 2002 Pioneer Days Parade (1st Place Winner—Theme)

At the present time, Connie is dividing her time between running the store in Whitestown, stocking her booth at the Westfield Antique Mall, attending auctions, and selling her merchandise on eBay. Stay tuned for further adventures...

*Congratulations, Connie!
Best Wishes for Continued Success*

BOO!

by Toby McDaniel

Hark!
Here comes Halloween!
Hallelujah!

That was the feeling this time of year when I was a kid in the late 1940s, anyway; Halloween was a big deal. Only Christmas and birthdays were bigger than Halloween (well, okay, the last day of school probably was the most popular) then and I don't think things have changed much.

In Whitestown, there were two distinctly different Halloween observances:

While we little angel darlings limited our fun to trick-or-treating on Halloween night, some of the older kids (high school punks!) wreaked havoc the whole month of October and a few days into November; soaping store and car windows (often soaping them to the extent you couldn't see through them), running bicycles up the school flag pole, lobbing whole pumpkins from the back of a speeding pickup truck, pushing over outhouses (in those days of no inside plumbing, everybody had to have one and did) and putting *large things where they didn't belong.

I recollect (but wasn't involved in) things like:

*A four-wheel horse-drawn buggy was somehow put astraddle of the coned roof of Bud Pipes' Mobil station one year. It took days for Bud to figure out how to get it down. Rumor was that a block-and-tackle procedure was required. But the big question, how in the name of Ned did they get it up there?, was never answered.

*Several muscular types put a big hay rake (the kind pulled by a farm tractor) on a guy's front porch.

*Brute strength lifted up the rear end of a car so concrete blocks could be placed under the back axle, leaving the drive wheels about an inch off the ground, so when somebody tried to drive off next morning the car wouldn't move.

*I suppose everyone is familiar with the "paper sack-on-fire" gag, whereby a big helping of fresh cow or horse manure is placed outside the front door of a guy's home and set ablaze. He answers a knock on the door and proceeds to do the logical thing; stomp the fire out.

*A farmer's unlocked car or pickup was one of the easiest targets; pranksters would put a sheep or a goat or a pig in the front seat.

*Pushing over outhouses was common; most were old wooden structures and 2 or 3 lightweights could easily accomplish that feat. I always thought that was the meanest of all the dirty rotten tricks. Not only did a homeowner have to hire someone to right the privy, too often they had to pay for repairs to the structure. My grandmother fell into that category more than once.

Speaking of "falling into," that happened to a couple big boys one Halloween. Carrying on a tradition of sorts, they sneaked into a backyard under cover of darkness to push over the outhouse there. But they ended up being tricked.

That particular homeowner had been victimized numerous times in the past and was fed up; he moved his privy about 10 inches forward, the idea being that anybody up to no good would fall into the nasty hole. And that's what happened to these guys; they fell in. Word of that spread real fast and legend was that was the last time anybody tried to dump that outhouse.

That was the wild side of Halloween in Whitestown.

Kids flitting around town on trick-or-treat missions on Halloween night was good wholesome fun for everybody, including those folks who welcomed the masqueraders into (that's right, into) their homes. And in those days, a lot of trick-or-treat rewards were real treats – homemade fudge, caramels, candied apples and popcorn balls, and apples and oranges; delicious edibles that today are unacceptable because some fruitcake might lace things like that with poison or illegal drugs, or hide sharp objects within.

Of course, going trick-or-treating required a costume and a big part of the fun for trick-or-treaters was having friends and neighbors try to guess who they were. Because virtually everybody in town, no matter what age, knew everybody else, often they guessed right.

And about Halloween costumes of that era; most were homemade – not store-bought -- and most likely they reflected a kid's imagination and ingenuity. It was ordinary for a kid to go trick-or-treating dressed up like a hobo, clown, ghost or a woman; and probably more boys chose the latter because they made funnier/uglier looking women. Articles of clothing needed for those kinds of costumes were easy to come by; they were in mom's or dad's closet, or the attic, and the price was right.

A lot of kids didn't wear store-bought masks, either. No need; not when mom's powder, lipstick and rouge were available. And it was easy to cover one's face with burnt cork (there was no shortage of corks back then).

There was extra fun for older little kids; they were equipped to pull an innocent trick, whether or not they were treated. Tools of the trade were a pocket full of shelled corn to throw against the front door (that made a weird sound), a bar of soap for scrawling on windows and a tick-tack, which was the best. A tick-tack was a homemade gizmo: take a small wood spool, cut several notches into both ends, tie a 24-inch piece of string to the center of the spool and wrap the rest of the string around the spool. To operate, insert part of a long carpenter's nail into the spool, hold tight to one end of the nail with one hand and the end of the string with the other as you press the spool against a window or side of the house. Then, let 'er rip! Pull hard on the string; the notched ends of the spool shoot a loud, startling rat-a-tat sound throughout the house.

Then, run as fast as you can. Now that was great Halloween fun!

For the past few months, the Newsletter's production has been hampered by computer and phone problems. Thanks to Joe Fischer (TDS Telecom) for solving the phone/DSL problems, and to Keith Schuh (and his old motherboard) for getting the computer up and running again. If there's anyone out there willing to donate time/expertise to repair an HP Scanner (it can't find the "home position" no matter how many times I click my heels), please step forward! Thanks to my sister, Rhonda Hibbert, for scanning artwork for the Newsletter (particularly the awesome drawing of St. Mark's Lutheran Church on page 32). Thanks also to Deana Harter for submitting the monthly Town Council meeting minutes and other information of interest to Whitestown residents. Special appreciation goes to Carla Jackson for sacrificing many long hours each month in order to copy the Newsletter. If not for her efforts, "The Little Book" could not be offered free of charge each month!

After almost one year of writing the Newsletter, it's time to make a decision about passing the baton. How Lois persevered for 16 years, I'll never know! I have received little feedback in the past nine months, and would appreciate hearing from those interested in the future of the Newsletter (readers and writers). Please take a moment to put your thoughts in writing and send to the mail or email address listed above.

Thanks for your input and support!
